Coffee Session

Coffee Break on 13th May – Stay Alert, Stay Supported

During the coffee break session, two important topics were highlighted:

1. Be Cautious of Scammers

- Students were reminded to stay vigilant against scam calls and online fraud. Scammers may pose as officials or trusted sources, so it's important to never share personal information and to verify any suspicious communication through official channels.

2. SHRM Has Your Back

- Students were also assured that they are fully supported at SHRM. If anything feels off—on or off campus—help is always available. Students are encouraged to reach out to lecturers, mentors, or the school team whenever needed.

It was an engaging and reassuring session that helped everyone feel more informed, safe, and supported.

Comedy Screening

Comedy Screening on 16th June.

In an effort to add some light-hearted fun to the school week, students were treated to a short comedy screening and popcorn on 16th June at 2pm. The screening featured two short comedy clips that provide a mental reset, allowing students to return to academic tasks with refreshed concentration. Visual and auditory learners can benefit from the multi-sensory experience of film. This was followed by a short quiz, in which the winner walked away with a box of popcorn.

Silk Road Screen Printing Workshop

Silk Road Screen Printing Workshop on 27th May.

Our college recently hosted an engaging and educational event titled “Silk Road Screen Printing Workshop”, designed to introduce students to the rich cultural and artistic heritage of the Silk Road.

Led by an inheritor, students learned about the exchange of textiles, patterns, and artistic techniques. They then had the exciting opportunity to screen print using traditional Silk Road-inspired designs.

Overall, the Silk Road Screen Printing Workshop was a memorable experience that blended art, history, and hands-on skills, leaving students inspired and eager to learn more about global cultures.

SHRM Cooking and Mocktail Competition

SHRM Cooking and Mocktail Competition on 15th May.

In an innovative pedagogical approach to enhance practical skills and foster interdisciplinary collaboration, a cooking and mocktail competition was organised in SHRM College on 15th May. It was designed to challenge students to blend culinary arts with beverage creation synergistically.

The competition served as a platform for students to showcase their culinary prowess and ingenuity in crafting non-alcoholic beverages that explicitly complement their chosen dishes. Three distinct teams embark on this culinary challenge, demonstrating a diverse range of skills, techniques, and creative concepts.

The competition unfolded as a closely contested affair with each team demonstrating considerable culinary acumen and a keen understanding of flavour profiles, presentation aesthetics, and the principles of food and beverage pairing. Well done!
